School Exhibition — Society Waits.

As anticipated, the exhibition of drawings at the Franklin building was highly interesting. This important branch of instruction, under the supervision of Mrs. S. E. Fuller and her assistant, Miss Willson, is taking rank with the practical and useful in the education of our children.

The exhibition evinced both the superior qualifications of the instructors and the application of the students. The principal, Mr. Willson, and the principals of other schools, with the teachers and trustees, were present at the examination.

blow. In her sweet and lovely girlhood, beautiful in the grace and charm of youth; brilliant and accomplished, and especially lovable, the world has suddenly grown dark to those who loved her so tenderly. If sympathy could alleviate their sorrow, then would its balm heal their anguish.

The exposition of specimens of map-drawing, penmanship, &c., was continued at the Franklin building today. The committee to examine the drawings, consisting of Major W. J. Twining, Paul Schultz, Esq., Lieut. R. L. Hoxie and John Hitts, made a report yesterday afternoon and the medals were bestowed upon the fortunate

MAJ. DAVID H. HAMCOCK, Second Infantry, died at Harrisburg yesterday. He had been residing there for a year past on sick leave.

GEN. ROGER A. PRYOR has accepted the invitation to deliver the annual oration before the literary societies of Princeton College, June 22.

JOHN McCULLOUGH, with a party of friends, arrived at Willard's last evening with the intention of taking a few days' recreation at the Capital.

MR. W. K. ROGERS, private secretary for President Hayes, who was announced to speak at Hoy's Tabernacle, Baltimore, last night in aid of the Milton sufferers, failed to put in an appearance.

AN ENTERPRISING MEMBER of the St. Louis Dental Association has discovered that George Washington wore a set of false teeth that cost him $500, though a much better set can now be had for $15. The teeth were made of ivory blocks, set on gold plate.

GEN. B. F. BUTLER was busily engaged in the local courts of the District yesterday, closing up his legal business preparatory to his extensive Western tour. He leaves for New Mexico in a few days, and expects to be gone several months. He says the trip is merely for recreation.

THE COMMITTEE on Inquiry found that the National Board of Health has expended the appropriation of last year in methods not contemplated by the framers of the law, such as in constructing quarantine stations with hospitals and full medical establishments. This year in the civil sundry bill they are restricted in their expenditures to assisting local quarantines.

IN THE HOUSE, late yesterday afternoon, Mr. Colerick, of Indiana, from the Committee on Elections, reported a resolution relative to the contested election case of Duffy vs. Mason, from the Twenty-fourth district of New York, declaring Mason, the sitting member, entitled to the seat. The resolution, which was the unanimous report of the committee, was adopted.

The building was profusely decorated with flowers and trailing vines and blooming shrubs made a succession of pleasant views. The drawing lessons on the blackboards, under Mrs. Fuller's direction, was followed by an inspection by the judges. Trustee Sampson presided and announced the prizes, details of which will be found below.

A very entertaining part of the programme was the art essay delivered by Mrs. Virgie Ream Hoxie. It abounded in beautiful thoughts, pleasing rhythm, nature's perfect charm, because of her endless variety, no machine marks in her matchless adaptation to every taste, her inspiration for young spirits, fame following excellence, the toil required to become an artist, all could not be mastered, but could do well what they attempted to do. Art at the Capitol and a tribute to Hon. Mr. Corcoran were a few of the leading ideas of a really delightful essay for these young masters of art.

The popular lady had the undivided attention of her audience from first to last.

Many distinguished persons were present.

Hon. Cyrus D. Prescott, one of the sub-committee on the Mississippi Levees, returned last evening, and it will, no doubt, take him a week to interview his accumulated correspondence.

He considers the investigation of this subject highly important and the sub-committee found an almost endless field of observation.

Judge Lapham, member from the Twenty-seventh district of New York, has just returned from Canadaigua, where he has recently had an important case in court. Mrs. Lapham, who accompanied him, also returned as her many friends will be delighted to know. She is a charming lady.

Mr. E. V. Goodchild, business manager of the Keystone Courier, Pennsylvania, has been spending a few days here. He left this morning for Pennsylvania.

Mrs. General Lander and her sons will sail for Europe about the middle of June by the National line on the Italy. She will spend the summer and fall abroad.

The pupils by Hon. Henry Van Aernam, of New York, as follows: First class—R. L. Major, a gold medal for the best original drawing; honorable mention, W. A. Rosebaum; H. Birney, gold medal for best drawing on blackboard; honorable mention, John Coole; W. L. Spieden, gold medal for best drawing-book; honorable mention, Titus Ulke. Second class—A. J. Lamb, premium for model and best cast object drawing; honorable mention, Walter Donaldson; J. M. Stockett, premium for mechanical drawing; honorable mention, W. J. Stevenson; A. Klakring, premium for historical ornamental drawing; honorable mention, W. A. Lowell.

Kohl's New Restaurant.

Mr. Edward Kohl, or Ned Kohl, as he is more familiarly known, is a real live business man and in no way has he given better evidence of his enterprise than in the reconstruction and remodeling of his old established stand, corner of Eighth and E streets. The present hotel and restaurant is one of the finest in the city, and is supplied with every modern convenience for the pleasure and comfort of guests. Everything about the house is new, bright and attractive. Cool, cozy and unusually neat, it is naturally alluring to the thirsty or hungry wayfarer who no where else can meet with finer meals, cooler or more refreshing drinks or cleaner or better lodgings. The house is elegantly furnished throughout and will compare favorably with any similar establishment in the country. The private dining rooms, the single bed rooms and the reasonable terms are a few of the things that recommend this house to the public.

Miss Annie K. Humphrey, 430 Tenth street northwest, has a complete assortment of summer corsets and Indian gauze underwear for ladies, misses and children at reasonable prices.

Wonderful Relief.

Our readers have doubtless, by this time, had ample opportunity of testing the merits of Curative and Iron Bitters, with a view to building up the constitution, and there remains but little for us to add in the praise of these superior tonics. We must say, however, that persons afflicted with broken health, lack of appetites and general debility, will find wondrous relief by the judicious use of these remedies.

The Rifle Team Completed.

By National Associated Press.

New York, May 22.—Yesterday was the last day for competition for places on the American rifle team for the match to come off in Ireland in the latter part of June. The wind blew a gale of disheartening against the shooters and accurate shots were difficult. The scores, therefore, were not excellent, but ranged from 211 down to 193, out of a possible 225. The Boston man, J. P. Brown, was at the top of the list yesterday, and another Boston man, W. H. Jackson, heads the list for the total scores for any two days out of three. The team selected for the Irish match is as follows: W. H. Jackson, 427; W. M. Farrow, 424; S. L. Scott, 423; H. P. Clark, 416; A. F. Brown, 413; H. Fisher, 406; R. Rathbone, 403. The team goes to Ireland under Colonel Bodine, as Captain. Scott is a Baltimore man and entirely new to Creedmoor. He has, however, made the best score in competitions, 219 in a possible 225. Clark is from Poughkeepsie; the rest of the gentlemen reside in this vicinity.

The May Musical Festival.

By National Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, May 22.—The festival proper closed last night, but a farewell Carey concert takes place at Music Hall this afternoon. In which all the festival soloists will participate. The audience will be as large as any at the musical festival. Another strong movement has been started to retain Theodore Thomas in Cincinnati. Col. Thos. Rudolph Neff offers to donate $5,000 to the festival association, provided it will add a portion of the profits of the present festival to constitute a fund to sustain a permanent orchestra with Theodore Thomas as conductor. The proposition will be considered at the next meeting.

The Ladies in High Glee.

All the ladies are in ecstasies over the elegant line of goods for dress, underwear, adornment and general use now displayed at the mammoth stores of Messrs. Lunsburgh & Bro., Nos. 494 and 496 Seventh street northwest. All styles and grades, and every manner of fancy articles or goods for ladies and children, and a superior line of gentlemen's underwear can be found at Lunsburgh & Bro.'s, at prices which cannot be marked by any other firm in this city.

Off for Liberia.

By National Associated Press.

New York, May 22.—The ship Liberia sails to-day for the African republic, after which she is named, carrying sixty colored refugees, and seeking a new home in the West African coast. Some of these refugees are of their own way, others are sent by the private means, and others sent by the relief committees of this city. It is expected that many more colored people will go to Liberia on the next sailing of this country.

The Suspense.

The magnitude of the enterprise involved in the suspension of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal & Iron Co. and the Pennsylvania Coal & Iron Co. is better understood when it is remembered that the monthly income of the two companies was about two millions and a quarter, the capital account of the coal and iron company $63,062,564, and that of the railroad company $112,202,936, a total of $175,265,500.
